

Patagonia Packing Checklist

*Note: This list does not include casual clothing for hanging out in the hotel or out on the town.
If you are also visiting Easter Island, please also print our Easter Island Packing Checklist.*

Packs
Small Backpack - 20-30 litres	For hiking day trips and outdoor tours to carry water, boxed lunch, and extra layers.
Duffel bag or luggage (outdoor type - 80 litres/50 lbs max). Duffel is best for handling in the rain.	To carry all your gear. Waterproof is recommended.
Clothing
Wool or fleece hat
Balaclava, buff, or neck warmer
Hat for block the sun with chin strap	Baseball caps are better than traditional brimmed hats against the winds of Patagonia.
Sunglasses	We recommend straps.
2-3 Base layer top or long-sleeve sportswear pullover	Merino wool, polypropylene, etc.
1-2 Fleece, pullover, or vest	Varying thicknesses are recommended.
Rain jacket with hood
Insulated jacket (to wear with layers)	Windproof is ideal.
Liner Gloves
2 Hiking Pants	Khaki or convertible pants
Fleece pants or rain pants	Optional
Hiking Shorts	Optional
1-2 Base layer pants for sleeping	Merino wool, polypropylene, etc.
3-4 Pairs Hiking Socks	Wicking is recommended.
Hiking Shoes	We recommend medium or high waterproof, gore tex, or similar.
Crocs or similar shoes	To rest the feet in the evening.

Miscellaneous
Sunscreen	Bring several small tubes.
Lip Balm	More than 1
Headlamp with extra batteries	We will not be hiking at night, but we recommend in case you need it in the van or elsewhere (caverns, etc).
Hand sanitizer	This is preferred to wet wipes to reduce waste.
Water bottle or Hydration System	Plastic bottles are banned in Patagonia and are not for sale anywhere. Bring something large enough for at least 1 litre.
Towel or bandana for wiping your hands
Camera with extra memory cards and batteries
